Statement of Basis and Purpose

Article 47 of the Health Code governs center-based child care. The Department proposes to clarify the Article's requirements by simplifying terminology and reorganizing certain provisions, and to add requirements for tooth brushing, maintaining epinephrine auto-injectors on site, and for training of staff. The basis for the proposed changes is set forth below.

Clarifying Requirements

The Department proposes several amendments to clarify requirements and facilitate compliance. For example, the proposed clarifying changes include adding definitions for "certified group teacher" and "corporal punishment," and adding details to current definitions, including for "assistant teacher" and "education director."

Currently, the Code requires that documentation be provided under certain provisions but not under others. The proposed changes create uniformity and enable the Department to effectively evaluate compliance with documentation requirements.

The Department is also proposing to add specificity to certain requirements, such as those regarding program capacity, supervision, and response to medical emergencies.

Tooth Brushing

The Department is proposing to mandate that child care programs and family shelter-based child supervision programs assist children aged two or older with brushing their teeth at least once each day. Tooth decay (caries) is the most common chronic childhood disease. Consequences of early childhood caries include a higher risk of developing additional caries in both primary and permanent teeth,¹ difficulty eating and speaking,² increased hospitalizations and emergency room visits³ and greater risk for delayed physical growth and development.⁴ National data show that nearly one in four preschool-age children has had caries.⁵ The Department's 2014 Child Dental Health Survey (CDHS) found that at least 15 percent⁶ of children in New York City child care programs had experienced caries and 45 percent of children consumed between-meal sugary snacks or sugary drinks four or more times a day, a major risk factor for caries. Caries prevalence increases as children get older, with 42 percent of third grade children having experiencing caries.⁷

Caries is a preventable disease. Relatively simple measures such as tooth brushing can significantly reduce risk. The American Dental Association recommends that tooth brushing twice per day begin at the eruption of a child's first tooth. Despite the established benefits of tooth brushing, the oral hygiene practices of young children in New York City remain inadequate. According to the CDHS⁸, among those surveyed, 40 percent of children aged 0 to 6 years brushed their teeth only once a day or less frequently, and 45 percent of children ages 0 to 2 years did not use fluoride toothpaste.

Requiring tooth brushing while in child care or child supervision programs will promote tooth brushing and help prevent caries. CDHS findings indicate that children with at least one tooth who are enrolled in Early Learn centers—which are required under the federal Head Start program to have a daily tooth brushing routine—are two and a half times as likely to brush their teeth the recommended two or more times per day than children in other programs. Including tooth brushing requirements in Article 47 will set children up for a lifetime of good oral hygiene practices.

⁶ This is likely underreported as it is self-reported information and children may have had undiagnosed caries (of which parents were unaware) when parents responded to the survey.

⁷ New York State Department of Health Third Grade Survey.

⁸DOHMH's Oral Health Program conducted a survey to determine risk and protective behaviors for tooth decay among children in New York City group daycare centers. Over 1,800 parents and caregivers from 67 daycare centers reported risk and protective behaviors for tooth decay of their children and themselves.

Epinephrine Auto-Injectors

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that four to six percent of children nationally have a food allergy; such food allergies include ones that are life-threatening. Rapid administration of an epinephrine auto-injector following a life-threatening allergen exposure is critical to preventing significant negative outcomes, including death. Having epinephrine auto-injectors on the premises at all times can save the lives of children with life-threatening food allergies who do not bring an epinephrine auto-injector with them to child care or shelter-base child supervision programs, and of children who have life-threatening food allergies identified for the first time while the child is in such programs.

In 2016, the New York State Public Health Law was amended⁹ to allow certain entities, including child care providers, to obtain non-patient specific epinephrine auto-injectors and to administer them in an emergency. This new State law creates the opportunity for such programs to have this critical, lifesaving medication available. Accordingly, the Department is proposing to add a mandate that child care and child supervision programs maintain on site at least two unexpired epinephrine auto-injectors in each dosage appropriate for children who may be in the program, stored so they are easily accessible to staff and inaccessible to children. Programs would be required to have at least one staff person on site, whenever children are present, trained to recognize signs and symptoms of anaphylactic shock and to administer epinephrine as appropriate. The proposal also requires the program to monitor the auto-injectors' expiration dates and call 911 after any administration, as required by the medication directions. Programs would be mandated to obtain parental consent at the time the child is enrolled in the program. All staff would be required to be trained in preventing and responding to emergencies related to food allergies.

Training requirements

The Department is proposing to expand staff training requirements to promote high quality learning environments, enhance child health and safety, and align with the health and safety training requirements in the federal Child Care Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Act of 2014, which apply to any program enrolling a child whose enrollment is paid for by CCDBG subsidies.

First, the Department is proposing to require that trainings currently required only for assistant teachers be mandated for all teaching staff. These core trainings address fundamental issues including preventing, recognizing signs and reporting injuries, infectious disease, lead poisoning and asthma; scheduling and conducting guided and structured physical activity; and childhood growth and development.

The Board's authority to codify these proposed amendments is found in Sections, 556, 558, and 1043 of the New York City Charter (the "Charter"). Sections 558(b) and (c) of the Charter empower the Board to amend the Health Code and to include all matters to which the Department's authority extends. Section 556 of the Charter provides the Department with jurisdiction to protect and promote the health of all persons in the City of New York. Section 1043 grants the Department rule-making authority.

Accordingly, the Department is proposing that the Board amend Health Code Article 47 as follows:

An order issued, pursuant to this section shall provide the permittee, or other person(s) in control, an opportunity to be heard and to show cause why such program should not remain closed until there are changed circumstances, or the correction, removal or abatement of the dangerous or detrimental condition(s).

(2) The Commissioner may require any permittee that consistently fails to correct imminent or repeat, serious violations to prepare a corrective action plan in which factors contributing to violations are analyzed and a plan is created to address and correct violations. When, in the opinion of the Commissioner, a permittee is unable or unwilling to write or implement a corrective action plan that adequately protects the health and safety of children, the Commissioner shall provide the permittee with an opportunity to show cause at a hearing why its permit should not be suspended or revoked.

(b) Operating without a permit. Operating any program without a currently valid permit shall be deemed to present an imminent health hazard to children in attendance, for which such program shall be ordered closed without further proceedings.

(c) Additional operating terms and conditions authorized. If the Department determines that the reopening of a program that has been ordered closed and its continuing operation will not present any risk to any person, the Department may authorize such reopening and may impose such additional conditions upon continuing operation that it deems necessary to avoid recurrence of imminent health hazards.

(d) Service of orders. Service of any order issued, pursuant to this Article may be made upon any person to whom the order is addressed, to a permittee, to a person required to hold a permit or upon any other person of suitable age and discretion who is asserting ownership, management or control of such program. Service of any order may be made in any manner provided in [24 RCNY §] Section 3.05(b) of this Code, or successor provision, and may be delivered to the home or business address of the permittee listed in the permit issued by the Commissioner, or in the permit application or at the place where the program is being operated.

(e) Posting orders to close; notifying parents. Upon issuing an order to close a program for any reason, the Department shall post a copy of the order at the entrance to the premises subject to such order, and shall notify and provide a copy of the closing order to the parents or other persons who arrive at the program to pick up children attending the program.

(f) Padlocking. Upon finding that any order issued, pursuant to this section has not been complied with, the Department may, without further notice, seal or padlock the premises where services are provided and take any other measures deemed necessary to obtain compliance with the order.

(g) Operation in violation of order prohibited. No person shall remove a padlock, seal or an order posted, pursuant to this section, or open to the public or operate a program in violation of an order issued, pursuant to this section.

(h) Other actions. In addition to any action authorized by this[article] Article or Article 5 of this Code, the Commissioner may refuse to renew, or may revoke or deny issuance of a permit if:

(1) the program's permit was ordered suspended more than once during the past 36 months, or

(2) the program's permit was previously ordered suspended for having lost a child, or another instance of inadequate supervision or inappropriate behavioral management of children; or

(3) the permittee failed to submit or implement a fully responsive corrective action plan; or

(4) a permit applicant or permittee continued operating a program when a permit was either ordered suspended or the program was ordered closed for operating without a permit; or

(5) the Commissioner determines that a permittee is unable or unwilling to correct a pattern of serious, repeated violations including, but not limited to, those defined as imminent health hazards; or

(6) the Commissioner finds out after issuing a permit that a previous or current permit, license, registration or other authorization to operate a program, held by the permittee, or any officer, manager or director of the permitted entity, was or is being suspended or revoked in any jurisdiction.

(i) Department authority not limited by this section. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit the authority of the Department to take any action it deems appropriate, including[issue] issuance of notices of violation seeking monetary penalties for violations cited by the Department, or[commence any other] commencement of a proceeding or action provided for by this Code or other applicable law, including actions or issuance of orders[to deny, suspend or revoke] denying, suspending, or revoking permits.

(j) Effect of permit revocation. When a permit has been ordered revoked by the Commissioner, and the Commissioner finds that the circumstances resulting in revocation show that the permittee or other persons exercising management and control are unable or unwilling to operate a program in compliance with this Code, an application for a new permit will not be accepted for at least five years from the date revoked from either the permittee or from any individual person exercising management and control of the program that had its permit revoked.
